

Education Rights 101

Rescheduled: January 22, 2018 - AM

Presented by Tim Schwarz at Art It Out.
255 Village Parkway - Suite 580, Marietta, GA 30067

It is often difficult to figure out if the school district is meeting its obligations educating your student. Improve your advocacy skills by attending this free information session for parents about the basics of disability education rights. The presentation will cover the application of federal law to common scenarios, including:

Individualized Education Program (IEP)

IEPs vs 504 Plans

Plan Eligibility

Student Evaluations

Goal & Accommodation Writing

Progress Monitoring

Least Restrictive Environment

School Discipline Protections

The session will be led by Tim Schwarz, an experienced attorney for students. He has helped families throughout North Georgia since 2012. Mr. Schwarz also writes the Georgia Special Education Law Blog, explaining education rights for parents, therapists, and advocates.

While covering fundamental principles, Mr. Schwarz will also discuss simple steps parents can take to help: persuade school districts to adjust services, hold the school district accountable, move forward in a timely manner, and prepare to litigate against a school district.

Please register by calling 770-726-9589.

For more information about Tim Schwarz please visit www.educationlawgeorgia.com

Art It Out Therapy Center
255 Village Parkway - Suite 580 | Marietta, GA 30067